

Harvard Phone

One number, wherever you are

Harvard Phone is a new service that lets you decide where you make and take calls at Harvard. Whether it's a landline, your laptop, or your mobile phone, you have one Harvard number for all your devices.

Make calls your way

Landlines, cell phones, tablets... Whatever device you use, we have you covered with Harvard Phone.

Desk phone

New features include easy directory lookup and custom settings handled online.

Soft phone

Free yourself from the landline. Use a computer or Internet-enabled tablet to make or take calls using your Harvard Phone number. Harvard Phone includes access to collaboration tools including Jabber*

Mobile phones

Never give out your personal number again. Install an Android or iOS app to make calls from your personal device, using your Harvard Phone number.

Self Service

Customize your experience at the Harvard Phone portal with features like “do not disturb,” call forwarding, and speed dial.

*Jabber is an application that allows you to quickly find and contact people on your devices, either by instant message, voice video, or conferencing.

Get it all with Harvard Phone

Starting in 2016, Harvard Phone will bring a standardized set of collaboration tools to Harvard faculty and staff. To learn more about the program and the tools that will be available to you, visit phone.harvard.edu
